

Myanmar: In the Midst of the Storm...UMCOR is There.

A tree was ripped from its roots by Cyclone Nargis, which slammed into Myanmar on May 2.

Cyclone Nargis tore through Myanmar (Burma) May 2 with unexpected fury, causing a tidal surge that swept inland and devastated Myanmar's most populated regions, leaving homes and businesses flattened and families forever changed. More than 70,000 were killed by the storm and another 55,000 are missing. In all, it's estimated that well over 2 million people were affected.

UMCOR Responds

The United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR) is responding to the widespread need in Myanmar. Working through partners such as Church World Service, Action by Churches Together partners and Methodists in the region, UMCOR is able to help bring aid directly to those in need. The international community is working to open up relationships between the US and Myanmar so that more assistance can be provided to survivors.

Bringing Hope

UMCOR is sending much-needed assistance and is working to do more to relieve the immense human suffering of the people of Myanmar at this time.

"We are thankful for the prayers and response of the United Methodist people," said Bishop Zothan Mawia of the Methodist Church in Lower Myanmar, in a phone conversation with the Rev. Sam Dixon, UMCOR's chief executive.

How to Give

UMCOR's greatest need is for funds that aid international emergency relief efforts. Support UMCOR's response with your prayers and your gifts.

Please pray for the people of Myanmar who have suffered great losses. Pray also for new venues for assistance to be opened to help those in need. Financial gifts will allow UMCOR to respond immediately and with generosity when the appropriate structures are in place to receive further assistance.
